COFFEE FOR FIREMEN

SUGGESTION THAT FUND BE RAISED BY SUBSCRIPTION.

Commissioner Macfarland Ready to Receive Contributions-Need of Additional Engines.

The suffering endured by the firemen at the two serious blazes this morning has led to the suggestion by Commissioner Macfarland, who has supervision of the fire department, that a fund be raised to supply the men with food and coffee, particularly the latter, while they are working at a fire during freezing weather. There is now no fund available for any such purpose, even the contingent appropriation being so guarded as not to be made use of in this respect. The firemen are often called out in the early morning before they have had their breakfasts. The hour for that meal and the hours for other meals, as well, are naturally spread out a good deal by reason of the fact that not more than two men may be absent from any one company at the same time. The firemen may also be called out of bed in the middle of the night and be compelled to remain on the scene of the conflagration for many hours. When the weather is bitterly cold, as it was today the suffering is naturally as it was today, the suffering is naturally as it was today, the suitering is naturally intense.

At the Moses' fire, shortly after 6 o'clock this morning, the firemen were covered with ice. A number of them had their ears frost bitten. It is quite evident that men working under such circumstances are in need of some sort of a stimulant. It is against the rules of the department that they should drink liquor, so coffee is the ideal beverage for the men. This morning, through the benevolence of citizens, the firemen were furnished with coffee. The same was true at the Ridenour fire. Here the men were compelled to work in the basement with water almost up to their waists. From time to time they would clamber to the surface of the street to remove their rubber boots and empty a gallon or more of water from each. Replacing the foot coverings they would again descend to the scenes of their labor in the smoke-laden atmosphere.

Mr. C. A. Muddiman, who is in business near the scene of this second conflagration, sent out and had an urn of coffee brought into his store. Some of the firemen were able to go to the store, while others had the coffee brought to them in tin pails. the coffee brought to them in tin pails. As many of these men had been unable to eat anything during the morning owing to the rapidly with which the fires followed each other, the coffee was nothing short of a

In Other Emergencies.

There are times, however, when conditions may not permit of citizens supplying the coffee. In the dead of night or in a section of the city where the utensils for coffee making are not to be found the men would be left to the severe exposure with nothing to keep them from exhaustion. Commissioner Macfarland witnessed both of the fires this morning and was impressed with the needs of the men in this respect, as were all others who were cogrespect, as were all others who were cognizant of the hardships they were enduring. The Commissioner believes that a fund of $200 or $300 could easily be raised by subscriptions from the people, and says he is ready to receive contributions toward that end. If such a fund were available and should be replenished from year to year as should be replenished from year to year as it may become exhausted, he believes a large coffee kettle and other supplies and utensils might be placed on one of the fuel wagons which proceed to all the large fires, and served to the men at convenient intervals. Mr. Macfarland believes the citizens will be glad to contribute to a fund for so worthy a purpose and is anxious that it should be established at once, as cold weather is likely to continue for some time.

Need of More Engines.

The inadequacy of the fire department exemplified quite emphatically today, when the two fires of a serious nature came in rapid succession. While the Moses fire was in progress the engines in the outlying sections were transferred to the more central stations. The apparatus from Anacostia, Eckington and other places was brought to the more convenient houses, to be ready to respond to any other alarms that might come in. The Ridenour fire was reported before some of the apparatus had returned to quarters, and the Anacostia and Eckington companies, Nos. 15 and 12, respectively, were summoned down town. As bad luck would have it, the reels belonging to these engines met with mishaps on the way to the fire and were temporarily dis-

During the entire morning, therefore, the outlying sections of the city were left practically entirely without fire protection. Two fires, more serious than those of this morn-ing, may occur at any time, and then, it is stated, Congress will wake up to the necessity of enlarging the department. The good luck of Washington in the past in this direction may not always hold good.

Physicians call it Anaemotrophy. It may show itself in the form of rheumatism, dyspepsia and bowel troubles, general weakness, fainting spells or other ways, all accompanied by nervousness. "About two months ago my wife, not having been fed on properly selected food, became very ill and her physician, after a thorough examination declared her to be suffering from Anaemotrophy (deficient blood.) It was necessary to change the food to enrich the blood and strengthen the organs and muscles and brace up the nerves with a good diet. Her stomach and entire system were in revolt against pasty, indigestible compounds and partly cooked cereals, and the overworked organs protested against being longer overburdened.
"One day I bought a package of Grape-Nuts and she began using them at once. Not only did she relish the delicate flavor, but her stomach received them without protest. "At breakfast and supper this was her only food save occasionally a cracker with jelly. In a week or so her cheeks had taken on a tinge of red and her strength had visibly increased. The doctor congratulated himself and her upon her recovery. He could hardly believe it possible then, but now he is a steady user of Grape-Nuts himself. Today her general health is vastly improved, her weight has increased 11 pounds and she is eating whatever she likes, her digestion being perfect.

NEW STAFF COMPS LAW

INTERPRETATION OF IT BY THE If Leaving PRESIDENT,

Promotion of Col. Randpiph—Duties of the New Body-Gen. Young, It is Believed, Will Be Eirst Chief.

In nominating Col. Wallace F. Randolph, chief of artillery, to be a latigadier general, to take effect at once, the President has made what one eminent legal authority regards as a somewhat remarkable interpretation of the general staff corps law by virtue of which the appointment was made. The general staff bill is made up of five sections, and the fifth section reads as fol-

"Sec. 5. That the chief of artillery shall hereafter serve as an additional member of the general staff and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate shall have the rank, pay and allowances of a brigadier general, and when the next vacancy occurs in the office of brigadier general of the line it shall not be filled, and thereafter the number of brigadier generals of the line, exclusive of the chief of artillery, shall not exceed fourteen; and the provisions of the foregoing sections of this act shall take ef-foregoing sections of this act shall take effect August 15, 1903."

In order to permit of the immediate appointment of Col. Randolph as a brigadier general the President, acting on the advice of Secretary Root, who deservedly takes high rank as a lawyer, construed the phrase in section 5, "and the foregoing sections of this act shall take effect August 15, 1903," to apply only to the first four sections immediately preceding section 5, and not to that section of which it was the closing part.

The staff bill is a model of brevity. It creates a general staff corps under rules to be established by the President, and thus defines its duties:

Duties of the Staff Corps. "To prepare plans for the national defense and for the mobilization of the military forces in time of war; to investigate and report upon all questions affecting the fficiency of the army and its state of preparation for military operations; to render professional aid and assistance to the Secretary of War and to general officers and other superior commanders, and to act as their agents in informing and co-ordinating the action of all the different officers who are subject under the terms of this act to the supervision of the chief of staff, and to perform such other military duties not otherwise assigned by law as may be from time to time prescribed by the President."

The corps is to consist of a chief of staff, two general officers and the brigadier general, chief of artillery, four colonels, six lieutenant colonels, twelve majors and twenty captains and lieutenants, who, while on the staff rank as contains to on the staff, rank as captains, to serve for four years and then return to the branches of the army in which they hold permanent commissions, and to serve there for two years before becoming eligible for another stan detail. An important provision allows the temporary detail of stan corps officers to duty with any arm of the service. The chief of staff, under the direction of the President or of the Secretary of War under direction of the President, is to have supervision of all troops of the line, and of all the existing staff bureaus and departments.

Gen. Young to Be Chief of Staff. The execution of this important legislation requires considerable preparatory work by the War Department, the most difficult feature of which is undoubtedly the preparation of rules for the government and operation of the general staff. The Army War College board, of which Major General lighted by thirty minutes after sunset; extinguishing begun one hoefore sunrise.

All arc and incandescent lamps lighted fifteen minutes after sunset and extinguished forty-five minutes before sunrise.

The preparation of the President and the Secretary of War. It is generally accepted as a foregone conclusion that General Young, who is to be made lieutenant general on the retirement of General Miles, August 8 next, will be detailed to duty as Young is president, has been charged with chief of the general staff.

Prosperi Found Guilty.

A jury in Judge Kimball's branch of the Police Court late yesterday afternoon returned a verdict of guilty against Charles B. Prosperi on a charge of assault. Attorney Campbell Carrington, counsel for the defendant, announced his intention of filing a motion for a new trial and sentence was deferred. Prosperi, who is a machinist, was employed in the navy yard during December last and boarded at 820 K street southeast, where Mrs. Edith Armstrong, the complainwhere Mrs. Edith Armstrong, the complam-ant, also resided with her husband. The testimony developed that the defend-ant entered the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, the night of December 7, and committed an indecent assault on the latter. Prosperi denied the charge and claimed that he entered the room because he heard a suspicious noise. Prosecuting Attorney Mullowny conducted the case for Arrested for Washington Authorities. James Martin, colored, twenty-three years of age, was arrested by the Philadelphia police yesterday for the Washington authorities, on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. Martin had some trouble with a colored man by the name of Silas Johnson near Fort Reno during October last, during which, it is alleged, he stabbed the latter in the side. Martin left the city, and nothing was heard of him until last night, when Capt. Boardman received a telegram announcing his arrest in the Quaker city. Detective Weedon went to Philadelphia this morning for the pur-pose of returning with Martin to this city.

Death of Mrs. McDuell.

Mrs. Wm. L. McDuell died of smallpox at Chester, Pa., Hospital, February 4, under distressing and peculiarly sad circumstances. Mrs. McDuell, whose home was in Williamsport, was accompanying her husband on a business trip through the eastern part of the state. When she took the dis-ease she was alone and was removed to the pest hospital, neither husband nor rela-tives being near, as her husband was tem-porarily engaged in a nearby city. Mrs. McDuell was well known and loved among young people of her state. Her hus-band, formerly of this city, survives her.

May Lose His Eyesight. Sanitary Officer Frank is confined to his home suffering from an injury to his eye received several days ago. The injury was received while playing with his baby. The child's finger nail cut his eye. It is feared he will lose his eyesight.

Arrest of a Marine.

John Kelley, a member of the United States Marine Corps, stationed on the Mayflower, was arrested today by Detectives Weedon and Lacy, and held for a preliminary examination in the Police Court on a charge of larceny from the government. It charge of larceny from the government. It is alleged that he took to from the paymaster's safe while doing guard duty. Kelley denies the charge and claims he won money from others on the ship in a game of ctap. He did not give the names of others who were in the alleged game. The arrest was made on a warrant issued from the Police Court several days ago. It is charged that the money was taken the 10th of this month.

Claims Against San Domingo. Frederick Vandyne, assistant solicitor of the Department of State, who was chosen as one of the arbitrators in the adjustment of the claim against San Domingo of the widow of J. Sala for a large quantity of war munitions supplied to the late President Heureaux, has gone to New York to comply with the terms of the protocol, which required the arbitrators to meet in that city. The other arbitrator is Senor Guachala, the resident Bolivian minister, and provision is made for calling upon the chief justice of the United States to act as an umpire if desired. The arbitration will be transferred after this first meeting in order to serve the convenience of the arbitrators.

Has become famous during the past fifty years because it is a family medicine that can always be relied on for any derangement of the Stoniach, Liver, Kidney and Bowels. It is therefore especially adapted to those who suffer from INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, CONSTIPATION, NERVOUS-BLES and who want to get well again. COMMENCE TAKING THE BITTERS TO-DAY, Good health is sun't to follow AVOID she likes, her digestion being perfect.

If attribute this to the increased nourishment and rest given to the digestive organs by the use of Grape-Nuts. We cannot say too much in honest and well-merited praise of it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
